

SINTECS ANNOUNCES NEW DISTRIBUTION AGREEMENT OFFER SIEMENS EDA SOLUTIONS IN BALTIC REGION

Sintecs, an engineering company with over 20 years of experience in electronic design automation (EDA), today announced that it has become an official distributor of Siemens' EDA products in Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, where Sintecs plans to offer a range of Siemens EDA products, including the Xpedition™ software, PADS™ Professional software, and HyperLynx™ software portfolios.

"We are pleased to have Sintecs as our official distributor in the Baltic states," said Elmar Dukek, EMEA distribution director, Siemens Digital Industries Software. "We see a focused intention in the region to win the leading position in the electronics market, via talented people, a comfortable business atmosphere, and dedicated investments. Our relationship with Sintec is expected to bring a strong market presence in the region and expertise in Electronic Design Automation to streamline the path to the electronic industry for customers in Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania."

Siemens EDA, a segment of Siemens Digital Industries Software, offers a wide range of software solutions for the design, simulation, and testing of electronic systems. Its products are used by companies in a variety of industries, including automotive, aerospace, and telecommunications.

"We are excited to be working with Siemens EDA, a leader in the EDA industry," said Hans Klos, CEO of Sintecs. "This collaboration will allow us to offer our partners in Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia access to some of the most advanced EDA tools on the market, and we look forward to sharing our experience with them."

Sintecs is one of the leading providers of engineering services in Europe. With a team of experienced professionals and a commitment to the highest quality of deliverables, the company has established itself as a trusted partner for companies looking to streamline their design processes and bring innovative products to market.

"We are proud to have such a long and successful collaboration with Siemens EDA," said Pavel Yankovich, Operating Manager of Sintecs Lithuania. "This new distribution agreement is a natural extension of that partnership, and we are confident that it will lead to even greater success in the future."
